Data Storage Regions

 India

Data Storage region selection provides the option to control where the message data is stored at rest. While the data is stored on FBC, this option allows localization for message content, ensuring a higher level of compliance with local data protection regulations

For countries with the same country code but different charges, the billing process prioritises the region code first. If the region code doesn't match, it then falls back to the country code, and if neither matches, the default rate is applied. This means that even countries sharing the same country code can have different charges based on their specific region codes.
